OUR CHERISHED HISTORY

The Army & Navy department store on Whyte Avenue was a cherished landmark in Edmonton, boasting a rich history that dates back to its establishment in the 1940s. Originally part of Canada's first discount department store chain, the Whyte Avenue location quickly became a bustling hub for locals seeking affordable goods and a unique shopping experience. Over the decades, the store has been a witness to the evolving landscape of Whyte Avenue, from its vibrant commercial heyday to the cultural renaissance of the area. Its iconic facade and nostalgic charm continue to evoke fond memories for generations of Edmontonians, making it a beloved historic site that embodies the spirit and resilience of the community.

Recently rebranded as A&N Exchange, a new chapter is set to begin for this property. With a vision for revitalization, the property offers unparalleled opportunities for tenants to be part of Edmonton's history, contributing to Whyte Avenue's continued vibrancy. Join us in reimagining A&N Exchange, ensuring it remains a beloved fixture of Edmonton for generations to come.
