OPPORTUNITY

Avison Young is pleased to present 330 Heatley Avenue, an exceptional opportunity to acquire a well-maintained 12,726 sf mixed-use industrial and office asset. The building features two levels of improved office space, partially covered parking, and grade loading, offering immediate functionality for owner-occupiers while also presenting strong income potential and long-term redevelopment upside for investors, with holding income in place until September 2026.

Situated in Vancouver's evolving Strathcona district, the Property benefits from a central city-fringe location with seamless connectivity to the Downtown core, the Port, and major transit and logistics corridors throughout Metro Vancouver.

LOCATION

Located at the corner of East Cordova Street and Heatley Avenue, the property benefits from its position within East Vancouver's Strathcona community, one of the city's most character-rich neighbourhoods. The area is known for its diverse blend of coffee shops, local dining destinations, micro-breweries and a strong presence of longstanding industrial and production users.

The subject property is located approximately 1.0 km, a 15 minute walk, from the new St. Paul's Hospital and Health Campus, an 18-acre development in the False Creek Flats positioned directly behind Pacific Central Station and the Main Street-Science World SkyTrain Station.
