About the Property

Situated in Gasoline Alley immediately south of Red Deer, this 1.65-acre parcel presents a strategic commercial development opportunity along the Queen Elizabeth II Highway. With C2 - General Commercial zoning, the property accommodates a wide range of permitted uses including retail, professional services, and food-related businesses. The site benefits from direct adjacency to Trader Ridge Shopping Centre, featuring established tenants such as Popeyes, Foggy Gorilla Vape, and Urgent Paws Veterinary Clinic, and is positioned beside a Shell gas station and McDonald's, contributing to consistent traffic flow in the immediate area.

Gasoline Alley continues to develop as a regional commercial node, attracting medical, technical, and financial service providers. The parcel is further supported by proximity to major national retailers including Costco, Staples, and Dollarama, reinforcing strong consumer draw and accessibility. High visibility, exposure to significant daily traffic volumes, and convenient highway access make this site well-suited for a range of commercial development opportunities in one of Central Alberta's most active corridors.
